LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 17 1903.

NUMBER 16

BUGGIES SURRIES HARNESS J. R. HASELTEN.

We will and do save people MONEY who buy from us.

Of Local Interest.

See ad of Danville Fair.

Arch Lawson sold to Mr J T Cherry of Brodhead, one combined horse for $175.

Drop a card to J B Willis, at the Springs, and have your room reserved for the great Crab Orchard Fair. It is next week.

The Record office is getting out neat catalogues for the colored fair to be held at Stanford. Some very liberal premiums are being offered.

May Foss At Work.

The Knights of Pythias lodge is again on foot and regular meetings are held every Friday night. Much interest is being taken.

For Willson.

The Republicans met Saturday and selected delegates to the state convention. They were instructed for Hon. A. E. Willson for governor, no other instructions being given. The question of a candidate for the legislature was not taken up.

Big Cattle Sale.

The Beazley Bros., the most prominent cattle men in this section, sold 64 head of their fine cattle to W. & Co., for $4.80. They averaged 1,500 pounds, and were a pretty lot. This was only a portion of the cattle the Messrs Beazley have.

Pleasant Event.

The refreshments served in the Park by the W. C. T. U., drew together a most congenial crowd of people. And many more will be present on future occasions. The little Park is very pleasant, and with such elegant refreshments a most delightful evening ning can be passed.

Garrard County Man.

A former Garrard county man, Mr John W. Flowers, is now engaged in giving the railroad collision exhibitions, one of which is advertised in this issue of The Record for the Lexington Fair. We met John in Lexington last week, while he was completing arrangements for the collision there, and he told us the idea was conceived by Mr Pettibone, one of the L. and N. engineers, running on the Knoxville Division. Mr Flowers was injured in a wreck and could no longer run an engine, and bought a farm in Garrard. Later he moved to Louisville. He looks after the details of the collisions, buying the locomotives, building track, etc. He is now engaged in business in Louisville. He has many friends in Garrard.

The Way to Argue.

"Why that water works dam is no good, the bottom will fall out," whines the usual kickers and knockers. The Councilmen should tell such people that it is not the bottom they want, it is the top they are trying to keep from falling out, to keep the water from running straight up. See? That's the way to answer. Any idiot ought to see that's what they want.

Brippling Springs Open.

This delightfully cool and pleasant resort is now open to the public. Everything having been put in first-class condition for the season. Mr. Bothwell has secured his former cooks, the best ones in Kentucky, and has filled the larder to overflowing with everything that is good in the eating line. The tables will be kept up to the former standard, and you can find no more pleasant or profitable place to recuperate during the hot summer days. The rates are moderate, the rooms neat, the beds fine and the water cannot be equaled anywhere. For further particulars address J. M. Bothwell, Lancaster, or Crab Orchard. jy-10-11

Better Clean Up.

The City Council would do a wise act by appointing a special committee to visit the property in town and see if the sanitary laws are being enforced. There are some good laws in this regard, and if the attention of the people was called thereto, it would result in good. There are hog pens, vaults and other nuisances which should be looked after, filth in all back yards and many other matters that should be looked after. When such things are found, give due notice to the owners, show them the law, and if they fail or refuse, slap a fine on and the effect will be good. Its all foolishness to jeopardize the health of the town for fear of making some fellow mad. If a man isn't good enough citizen to obey all the laws, let him get mad, and if he gets the line under his tail, the people will help the Council run him out of town.

About Well.

The three negroes who were sent out of town some ten days ago, are about well, but to make assurance doubly sure they will not be allowed to return to town for some time. They are about three and a half miles in the country, quartered in tents. As there has been absolutely no spread of the disease, many doubt if it was the genuine smallpox, and if it is, it certainly is in an exceedingly mild form, or others would have taken it. The promptness with which Judge Ford and the town officials acted is entitled to great commendation, and their quick and able work prevented what might have been a troublesome experience for Lancaster. We understand the patients have never been very sick, and the trouble is more like the old seven-year itch than anything else. Some greatly exaggerated stories have been sent out, and why people want to start such falsehoods, or repeat them, is hard to understand. The Record can say positively, that there is no smallpox in Lancaster.

Hon. R. C. Warren.

The Record is requested by a friend to reproduce the following from the Glasgow Times: "Hon R C Warren, of Stanford, familiarly known to his legion of friends everywhere as 'Dick' Warren, is announced as a candidate for Congress in the Eighth district. For 37 years, or ever since he became a voter, Mr Warren has faithfully, unflinchingly and ably advocated the cause of democracy. In 1899-1900, when the democratic party was on trial for its political life, he stumped the 11th Congressional district. He is a very strong speaker, a gentleman of ability and a democrat without guile and above reproach. Without disparagement to other candidates that may appear—and the Times does not know that there are others—the Eighth congressional district would make no mistake in rewarding the faithful party services and loyalty to principle for more than a generation, shown by Hon. R C Warren.

Good Manners.

We could never understand why some people, after securing some little 2nd position, would immediately think they owned the earth, and believe it smart to give abrupt answers to people who are forced into their presence. A man of this character is his own pest. He sits severely alone by the public, but sometimes one is compelled to have business with him. The other day we heard a certain gentleman "chewing the rag," so to speak, and asked the whyness of his wrath. "Well," he replied, "I just came out of so-and-so's place, and if it were not for the fact that I have determined to keep out of trouble, I would have stamped his infernal head into the floor." He then went on to say he had almost been insulted for asking a civil question. Such snappy, disgusting people live in every town, and while it is true they are very disagreeable, a gentleman cannot afford to "mix it up" every time he receives a short answer. As we advised the gentleman the other day, if you fly off every time you meet a damned fool, you will be in a scrap all the time. Good manners prohibit unpleasant transactions, and a gentleman will act a gentleman under all circumstances. A soft answer turneth away wrath, but if a fellow tries to rub it in on you, that's a different proposition.

Mrs. Bogle is at the Danville, Kentucky cottage No. 5, Asbury Ave., Chattanooga, N. Y., and wants all Kentucky visitors with her. It

The great Kirksville Fair is on this week. See the premium list in this issue of The Record. You should not miss this great event. Saxton's band will furnish the music, which is alone enough to take you there.

Ice Cream Supper.

The Ladies Aid Society of Fairview Christian church, will give an ice cream supper at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Mays, near Paint Lick, Friday night, from 7 to 11 o'clock, July 24th for benefit of church. Admission 25-cents and 15 cts. Everybody invited. 2t

The W. C. T. U. will serve ice cream, sherbert and cake in the Park Saturday, beginning at 4 p. m., and continuing until 10 o'clock. For fifteen cents you get either cream or sherbert. This is for a noble cause, and should be liberally patronized.

A special from Denver to Sunday's Courier Journal says a large crowd is attending the C. E. convention. Among the speakers on Saturday was Rev. F. M. Tindler, of Lancaster, who also preached Sunday at the East Side Christian church. Among those left for a trip through Yellow Stone Park were the Misses Gill and Brother, of Lancaster.

Big Vocal Contest.

The exact date of the vocal contest is Tuesday, July 25th. Richmond, Mt. Sterling, London, Lancaster, Cynthia, Stanford, Flemingsburg, and other central Kentucky towns will be represented, and interest is already at a white heat. First prize, a diamond ring, second prize a gold medal. There will also be a popular prize to be decided by the audience, every person present having a vote. There will be only one price of admission, 50c, and you can have reserved seats marked off at McRoberts' drug store without extra charge. All seats 50c, but privilege of reserving if bought in advance.

Trick Mule for Barnum.

A Lancaster gentleman, Col. "Billy" Burton, who has been dealing in horses and mules for many years, has, indeed, gained a wide reputation as a man of ability in this line. He frequently ships line ones to New York, and often selects spans of horses for rich men up east. Last week he received a letter from a representative of the great Barnum & Bailey circus, asking him to select a small mule to be used as a trick mule in the show, the circus people putting all confidence in his ability to put the right animal. "Billy" looked around, and Saturday found the mule to fill the bill. He is a very small one, but as quick as lightning and as smart as a whip. The show people will send a man after the mule in a few days, and of course pay Mr. Burton a handsome sum for buying him. The mule is at Mr. Burton's sale barns, on Paulding street. The Barnum & Bailey show will be in Lexington in September.

The Great Head-End Collision.

One of the greatest spectacles ever seen at a fair in Kentucky will be the sensational head end collision between the two 30 ton locomotives which will crash together at full speed on the afternoon of Wednesday, Aug 12, at the Lexington Elks Fair. These engines will be on opposite ends of a specially built railroad track, one-half mile long on the infield of the race track. They will be facing each other under full head of steam. Their whistles will be opened when the engines are started and remain open until fogever silenced by the awful crash, smash and roar made in the final destruction. A thousand torpedoes will be exploded beneath the swift and mighty tread of ponderous wheels carrying the awful load of 60,000 pounds. They will be put together at a speed of 35 miles per hour each making a total impact of 70 miles per hour, in other words, a mass of matter, including engines and tenders weighing 100 tons will crash together at this awful rate of speed, and in the twinkling of an eye will grind to dust thousands of pounds of steel and iron.

How Much is a Minister Worth?

There is a good deal of talk about Dr. Lorimer's salary. He preaches in New York, says the Harrodsburg Herald. Boston wants him, having had a taste of his efficiency, and has offered him $20,000 a year and a parsonage that is anything but a hut. It is a high-water mark salary, and causes discussion because there are people who do not believe that a minister of the Gospel should allow money to determine his location, or that any minister should be paid $400 a week. There is a business side to it. The demands on a modern minister are immense. He must be an orator, a thinker, a planner. He must have health, magnetism and that mysterious something that fills the pews, charges the very air with electricity, and makes the people treasure his words and support his projects. You can not fix the cash value of that kind of a minister. He is worth whatever a church can afford to pay him, and if the sum is $20,000 there isn't a shadow of a doubt that he will do his community $20,000 worth of good. Dr. Lorimer was at one time pastor of the Harrodsburg Baptist church.

Big lot of free attractions at Crab Orchard Fair such as balloon ascensions, Parachute leaps, High-wire walking, Trapeze performance, High-diving dogs, etc., each day.

Chicken Fanciers.

Lancaster has a number of chicken fanciers who can beat the world on the variety of stock, to say the least. Each man ordered certain kinds of eggs, paying fabulous prices therefor, "set" them properly, and every "setting" resulted in from two to four breeds of chickens. The dealers evidently got the eggs mixed, or the hens swapped after being set. At any rate it is not safe to say "chicken" to certain Lancaster poultry fanciers.

Union Meeting.

The Union services will be held in the Christian church Sunday evening, beginning at 7:45, sharp. Rev. C. M. Chumbley will preach the sermon. These services are very popular and the churches have been crowded. It is very likely that some of them will be held in the Park during the warm weather, when the two are lamps will be lowered, an organ and chairs placed conveniently. Due notice will be given through the columns of The Record.

A Former Lancaster Boy.

A Jeffersonville, Ind., paper prints the following: "Ed Norris, a four teen-year-old lad, has excited the admiration and wonder of a number of his acquaintances in Jeffersonville by constructing a steam boiler out of scraps of metal. The youth lives with his parents at 114 west maple street. The engine has a capacity of about two-horse power, and works perfectly. It is made of old pipes, and the boiler was framed out of a range reservoir five feet long, and about ten inches in diameter. Around the boiler he has made a jacket and cemented it, making it perfectly air-tight. He has adjusted pumps, and all necessary appliances for making the outfit useful. Besides all of this he has adjusted a whistle made of a bicycle pump. The whistle can be heard for several blocks.

In making a water tank he used tin cans, which he soldered together with as much skill as could be shown by the oldest tinsmith. Young Norris spent yesterday in his "shop" exhibiting his "plant" to many admiring visitors.

Bell and Hardin.

The Democratic State Central Committee, in session at Frankfort Tuesday, decided that Messrs. Bell and Hardin, of Mercer county, were the regularly nominated candidates for Circuit Judge and Attorney in this district over Judge Saufley and John S. Owsley. This settles the warmly contested matter which has attracted wide attention. Both Judge Saufley and Mr. Owsley gracefully accept the decision and promise their hearty support to the ticket. In addressing the committee, Judge Saufley said: "Mr. Chairman: The formal communication of your committee that by its deliberate and well-considered action my honorable opponent, Mr. Bell, has been declared to be the nominee of our party, conveys to me no message of news. I thank you for that courtesy which suggested that I be invited to renew before you my pledge of devotion to our party principles or loyalty to its organization. More than thirty years ago I bent my knee at the altar of the Democratic party, and since that act of primal homage to doctrine, to party order and discipline, I may be pardoned for saying I have followed the party flag whenever and wherever it may lead. This consistent and unbroken devotion shall furnish my best guarantee of what I shall do in the future. J W Bell is personally and politically my friend. I pledge to him my cordial support."

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky. July 17, 1903.

The Cynthiana Democrat says there is no truth in the report that "mule buyers" are working Harrison county with a view to bribing jurors in the Breathitt county cases to be tried there. The good people of that county will not stand for that, we all know but what the Hargis money will do for witnesses will be a bountiful sufficiency. With all that at their backs, Jett and White will never feel the halter draw, no matter where they are tried. The reason they receive this support is the fact that others fear they will tell something on the gallows which will stretch other necks. No, you can wager your blue chips that Jett and White will go scott free.

Out in West Virginia, the people have adopted a new plan for punishing negro rapists. A black devil caught a white girl, dragged her into the woods, kept her tied there several days, returning many times to accomplish his hellish purpose. Citizens located the girl, hid in the brush and when the brute returned, they sprang upon him and skinned him alive. This sounds like unjust treatment, but it is the only way to check the black fiends. Suppose the black brute had dragged one of your friends or relatives into the woods and treated her in that manner, wouldn't you think the punishment he received fit the case? That's the way to reason about these matters.

Many amusing things happen to people who suddenly come into riches, and try to do the society act. A rich man who has joined the multitude in New York since his quick fortune came to him was entertaining friends at dinner the other night. The service was magnificent and so was the dinner. The wife, gorgeously clad, reigned over the table. During a lull in conversation the rich man watched a servant who was dexterously removing crumbs from the table. Then he looked down the glistening table at his jeweled wife and remarked: "Saddle, remember when you used to shake the table cloth out of the back door to the hens?"

A Missouri editor argues that there is no harm in Sunday fishing, holding that it is as much a sin to chase and catch a yellow-legged chicken for a preacher's dinner. Sunday fishing always was frowned down, and mostly by those who will hitch up a poor horse that has worked in the plow all week and work it to death on Sunday for a "pleasure drive." Consistency in nearly everything seems to be a thing of the past.

A lot of Sunday school scholars in New Jersey are trying to start a movement to abolish the pretty story of Santa Claus. This is about the meanest move we ever heard of. About all the happiness a person has is during his childhood, and the coming of Old Santa is the brightest event in the urchin's career. We would help tar and feather any person mean enough to deprive a child of that happiness.

Chicago women have adopted men's socks. This is doubtless caused from the reason that the factories don't make women's hose large enough for Chicago feet.

Some up East Yankee has invented a plan to kill mosquitoes with music. The class of trash written and used these days will not only kill the pests, but comes near putting under the sod the people hearing it.

Land, Stock, Crops.

One who makes money out of hens says they must have some animal food every day. His hens drop off in eggs just as soon as they get out of this part of their diet.

Every little helps to swell the cash income on the farm. Most farmers keep poultry only for the eggs and flesh, to supply their own demand. When it could be made a source of revenue it properly managed.

Mr. Catesby Woodford sold in New York, Tuesday, 19 head of yearling thoroughbreds for $37,000. He sold two head a few days ago before the for $5,000, and still has several good ones left.—Paris News.

Anthrax has broken out among the Rice Bros., herd of fine Shorthorn cattle at Petersburg, Ky., and from three to five die every day. Veterinary Crier says there is no known remedy for the disease and it is expected that the entire herd of one hundred and fifty will die.

One advantage in feeding but little corn to the growing pigs during the summer is that they will do much better on a corn diet when the time comes to fatten them in the fall, as the bulky feed as developed large stomach capacity and they have made bone and muscles rather than fat.—Farmers Home Journal.

The market gardeners say the present is the worst year for gardens they have ever known. The ground was in bad condition for planting, and the alternations of extremely dry weather in conjunction with the prevailing cold weather, has greatly reduced the yield.—Winchester Democrat.

The books of the Burley Tobacco Association were closed Tuesday and no more stock will be taken, about 90 per cent. of the tobacco acreage in the Burley belt having been pledged. Representatives of the Association who went East some time since returned with the assurance that when 75 per cent. of the acreage was secured they would furnish all the capital that the Association would want. A meeting of the directors will be called at once and arrangements will be made to handle the present growing crop.—Danville Advocate.

The wheat yield in this county will be about half crop. Some will get about 4 bushels to the acre and others from that amount on up to 25 bushels. The shortage is attributed to the frost in May and the one about June 1. Last week John Divine shipped 65,160 eggs to the city markets. They brought $706.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Easter Boy Jones, aged fifteen years son of Mr. J. A. Jones, of Shelby county, Ky., cultivated two acres of tobacco last year. Last week he sold his crop of four hogheads at the Pickett Warehouse at the following prices:—$13, $11, $9.30 and $8.00, making an average of $10.55. Roy was offered only $7 at home for his crop. His crop netted him $333.79 after paying all expenses of marketing. This is given to show what a boy of pluck, energy and intelligence can do on the farm.

T. W. Haines, of Allen county, bought $18 worth of bluegrass seed of a Scottsville merchant and sowed them on six acres of land which he carefully prepared. The seed came up beautifully and grew with amazing rapidity. Mr. Haines all the time watching the crop with suspicion, as from the first he noticed that the "bluegrass" meadow blossomed and bloomed into the prettiest six acres of English daisies ever seen in Allen county, and the crop is therefore entirely worthless, as not even a goat will eat it.—Glasgow Times.

The year's consumption of tobacco in the United States alone includes 7,000,000 cigars. 10,000,000 of cigarettes and 280,000,000 pounds of manufactured tobacco. The one item of smoking and chewing tobacco, exclusive of cigars, cigarettes and snuff, registers an annual over-all value of more than $500,000,000. In addition England smokes 6,000,000,000, Japan 3,000,000,000 and China 1,500,000,000 of cigarettes every twelve months. The outside cigarette puffing burns up 45,000,000 pounds of tobacco and puts about $4,000,000 into the bank account of the American grower.

The hens of the United States alone during the year 1902 deposited in and around the barns and chicken houses 15,000,000,000 eggs, always taking care to announce each separate deposit with a triumphant cackle, to the end that the same might be recorded. These white pellets brought in the markets fully $150,000,000, an amount which combined with the worth of the poultry, $139,000,000, is nearly double the value of all the precious metals yielded up by the bosom of old Mother Earth during the period named and six times greater than all the wool fleeced from the backs of all the sheep in this country for the same year.

An exchange says: There's no use worrying, fretting and losing sleep because some one has found fault with what you do. "Tis the common lot of man in business. The merchant doesn't please all his customers; the postmaster is cuffed and kicked for alleged mistakes; the railroad agent is frequently backed up in a corner and given to understand this and the other thing; the butcher is forever reminded of the tough steak, and even the minister finds it hard to please all the congregation with his best sermons. If you do not believe this ask these men. The newspaper man gets more than his share of it and is expected to get out a cheerful newspaper all the same. A man befriends another for years and is turned down and abused. Such things are not pleasant but they always have been and always will be, and the man who goes through them the easiest is the one who pays the least attention to them and goes right along trying to be pleasant and useful.

Many farmers know that cut hay or even straw, wet and sprinkled with meal, is a better food for working horses than whole grain and hay. In this shape the nutriment in the food is easily eaten and digested. Horses do not need water when eating, except as it is put on the chopped hay to make the meal stick to it. The meal being fine digests perfectly, while much of the nutriment in whole grain is lost. Again the wasted effect made in digesting the latter is so much detracted from the strength which should go to the work.

Harrodsburg Herald:—M. L. Vaught sold his wheat for 75c. Will Spillman sold his crop of wheat for 75c. Sam Bally sold his crop of 1,000 bushels of wheat to J. T. Freeman for 78c. Will Spillman sold a bunch of about 25 yearling mules to Walter Terhune at $72.50 per head. G. A. Robinson's wheat averaged 12 to 25 bushels an acre. He sold 1,200 bushels to Sam Forsythe for Burgin parties at 72c. One hundred head of cattle on the market Monday. 12 heifers $22.50 a head; 4 small steers $13 a head; 6 steers $21.50; milk cows sold from $25 to $30. Bolivar Bond shipped to Louisville last week from Cummin's Ferry 50 hogs; also 60 head of lambs, and brought two thousand bushels of wheat from Col. Redmon, of Woodford, at 70 cents.

It is a fortunate thing for mankind that a dog laughs with his tail, other wise when he has occasion to show his teeth his meaning might be misunderstood.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane exposing the nerves and causes the glands to secrete mucus. Instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicine failed to benefit me, until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. H. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by F. P. Frisbie. 1 m

Words are merely the action of the thought.

Even if a man is a poor thinker he may be a good whistler.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists. 1 m

When a man finds a button in his salad he should bear in mind that it is only a part of the dressing.

For a lazy liver try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They invigorate the liver, aid the digestion, regulate the bowels and prevent bilious attacks. For sale by all druggists. 1 m

Never doubt a girl's veracity when she says she can't sing. It's ten to one she can't.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Goiblick of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's this great medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by McRoberts druggist. 1 m

The average young man manages to squeeze a lot of enjoyment out of a waltz.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At Stomach's Drug Store. G. G. Green, Woodbury, N. J. Aug. 29

Many marriages are due to the fact that the contracting parties fail to understand each other.

I have practiced medicine for 36 years and have consulted the leading physicians in this country in regard to a remedy for Dyspepsia, but have never been able to find anything that would effect a cure until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have suffered with stomach trouble for years. Could not eat anything but milk toast for months but since I used Kodol I can eat anything and feel that my health is better than it ever was in my life. I can say enough for Kodol for it has saved my life and I know that it will cure any case of Dyspepsia it taken as directed.—M. D. Steel, M.D., Big Hill, Ky. Sold by Frisbie. 1 Aug.

It may be that education makes fools of some men and money makes fools of others, but the majority are born foolish.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," says Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicine failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 68 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at McRoberts' drug store. 1 m

The Foundation of Health.

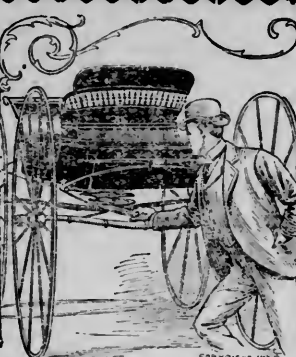

Nourishment is the foundation of health—life—strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the one great medicine that enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest assimilate and transform all foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues. Kodol lays the foundation for health. Nature does the rest. Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs are cured by the use of Kodol. Sold by F. P. Frisbie. 1 m

PERSONALS.

Charley West and R L Davidson are recuperating at Estill Springs.

Mr and Mrs J C Robinson spent Fri day and Saturday in Cincinnati.

Mr H B Northcott has returned from a business trip to Cincinnati.

Col. W S Ferguson is here from Covington looking after his big farm.

Little Miss Christine Merritt is in Danville visiting her aunt, Mrs Sacary.

Miss Dove Embry, of Lexington, is the guest of Miss Alberta Anderson.

Miss Katie Hood, of Junction City, is visiting her aunt Miss Emma Hood.

Ollie Pollard and wife, of Lexington, have been visiting Lancaster relatives.

Miss Stella Houston is spending her vacation with relatives in Danville, Ills.

Judge R A Burnside and Col. Dan Collier were up from Louisville Saturday.

Mr Ollie Terrill, of the Peoples Bank, Paint Lick, was in town Monday.

Mrs Wood Dunlap and daughter, Miss Gena, are visiting Mrs R A Burnside.

Mrs Jack Kemper, and Mrs Beddow, of Danville, are guest of Mrs Ophelia Dunn.

Miss Elsie Zimmer has returned home after several weeks visit in Cincinnati.

Mrs J W Sweeney and baby, have returned from a visit to relatives in Cynthiana.

Mr and Mrs Thos Cherry, of Brodhead, have been the guests of Mr and Mrs Jas I Hamilton.

Miss Susie Hatcher, book keeper for Logan Dry Goods Co., is visiting relatives in Pulaski county.

Mr and Mrs Chumley entertained a number of their young friends at dinner Thursday evening.

Mr and Mrs R L Jennings of Paint Lick, visited Mr and Mrs J C Thompson of this city, Sunday.

Mrs Sam Woodriddle and daughter, Miss Mary of Denver, are expected to visit her mother Mrs Mary Reid.

Mrs Mary L Anderson has secured a good position in Louisville, as deputy under Mrs Baldwin, Lady Commander of the Maccabees for the northern part of Kentucky.

Mrs Sam Haselden, who has been quite ill, is much improved. Her parents, Mr and Mrs Powell Duncan, of Nicholasville, have been here, but returned home Saturday.

Miss Cora Ward who is Lancaster's representative in the vocal contest has an exceptionally sweet voice, in fact we don't believe the diamond ring will have to leave Lancaster.

A sweet-faced girl baby has arrived to bless the union of Mr and Mrs Joe Elsener, of Charleston W Va. Mrs Elsener is at the home of her mother, Mrs N. Miller, near this city. The little Miss has been christened Mary.

A very charming entertainment was the party given by Misses Jane and Mary Doty, at their home on Richmond street, Thursday evening. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion and delightful refreshments were served.

Miss Katie Lee Denny entertained a large number of her friends, at her home on Richmond pike, Tuesday evening, in honor of her visitor, Miss VanMeter, of Lexington. Delicious ices were served, and the evening most delightfully spent.

Mrs Louis Landram has returned from a delightful visit to her sister, Mrs Howard Rice, in Nashville. Mrs Rice has gone to Springfield, Ohio, where Mr Rice has been transferred by his employers, the American Seeding Machine Co.

Little Miss Cynthia Ball is visiting her aunt, Mrs Dudderar, in Stanford.

Mrs Dr J T Evans, of Louisville, is visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Moss.

Prof. John K West, of Missouri, is visiting his uncle, John K West, on Richmond avenue.

Mr Wm Ward spent several days in Livingston and other points in that vicinity looking after his business interests there.

Miss Janey Shumate, who taught in the school at Bristol, Tenn., the past term, is the guest of Miss Olivia Sweeney.

Our old friend, John Traylor, has been quite ill at his home near Gilberts Creek. He is a mighty clever man, and has many friends who trust he will soon be restored to health.

Danville Advocate:—Miss Julia Mae Gaines, who has been on an extended visit to friends in the West, returned last night. She has visited in St Louis and other points in Missouri and the Indian Territory.

Master Dick Burnside is now devil in this office. As his father, Judge Burnside and John Stormes have been training him up as a fisherman, we fear he will not like to act in so small a capacity as the devil.

Danville News:—Miss Florence Webster, of Indianapolis, and Mr William Long, of the same city, were married last Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in Indianapolis. Miss Webster will be remembered as having visited Miss Mary Dunn last summer.

Mrs. Mollie Young, who has been spending some time in Dallas, Texas, is visiting her parents, Capt. and Mrs F. J. White. Her son, C. W., has a fine position in a Dallas bank, and his Lancaster friends will be delighted to hear that he is succeeding so well.

The party given by Miss Theo Hemphill, at her beautiful home, on Lexington street, Wednesday evening, was one of the events of the season which will not soon be forgotten by those who attended. The handsome house was tastefully decorated and presented a most inviting appearance, the many electric lights adding to the charm.

The pretty lawn was lighted by many Japanese lanterns, a number of rustic benches adding to the pleasure of those who preferred the outdoor breezes. Miss Hemphill is one of Lancaster's most popular and charming young ladies, is an exceedingly pretty girl, of a friendly and kind disposition which makes friends of all with whom she meets. Delightful refreshments were served and it was with the greatest reluctance the guests departed at a late hour.

Miss Carrie Hatcher, of The Record office, is spending a week's vacation with relatives in Pulaski county. Miss Hatcher is not only a splendid hand at the type case, but makes herself useful in a thousand other ways about the printing office. Ladies are rapidly taking the place of men and boys in printing offices, for the simple reason that they attend to business and can be depended upon. The male typo has no one but himself to blame for being deposed, for it is almost impossible to find men who will devote their undivided attention to that which they are paid to look after. The Record office was among the first to employ a lady, and the idea has become so popular that they are found in nearly every printing office. The work is not near so hard as sewing, is far less responsible than book-keeping, and much easier than clerking in a store.

One of the most beautiful and enjoyable affairs in the history of the B. B. Club was in the garden party Thursday afternoon. The guests were received on the lawn by the two handsome hostesses, Misses Sallie and Martha Elkin, who were becomingly gowned in white. Delightful refreshments were served, and on a pretty table near the centre of the lawn the frappe was presided over by Miss Lettie May McRoberts.

The prize, a beautiful hand-painted shirt-waist set, was won by Mrs. John S Baughman, of Danville. The guests of honor were Mrs Wm Walden, Mrs Geiger, Mrs W McC Johnston, Mrs Mattie Duncan, Mrs B E McRoberts, Misses Annie Royston, Alice Walker and Louise Kauffman.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR ASSOCIATION which will hold its big fair at Owensboro beginning September 1st, has added some highly interesting free amusement features to its programme, among them being Dr. Carver, the celebrated marksman; the eight wonderful horses which race at full speed without drivers; a race between a team driven by a bull-dog and a team driven by a man; four automobile races, one of which will be for amateur enthusiasts of Owensboro only; a fine foot ball game and mule and hurdle races.

In addition to the $20,000 cash prizes for exhibits, there will be many prize silver cups offered by various Associations and individuals. The contracts for the big buildings will be let within a week.

Catalogues or any information can be secured by addressing Secretary L B Shropshire, Room No. 25, Board of Trade Bldg., Louisville, Ky.

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR ASSOCIATION. By Graham Freeland.

Requires Brains.

The Lincoln Democrat copied The Record's item regarding the snake killed by Engineer John Clark, and adds these comments:

"That paragraph, the object of which, as we see it, is to extol the virtues and depict the responsibilities of the engineers all over the country, is right in line with the eternal fitness of things, where Louis always stands as firmly in his mortal way, as the Rock of Gibraltar in its gauder. The real people of this great Nation are classified. Among the noblest and the bravest, as time—which regulates everything has proven, are the engineers, followed closely by competent brakemen, but the engineer is over and above all, because a misce means the loss of human souls. It means death and destruction to 'All Aboard.' It means tears from mothers, widows, children. It means loss of property to the railroad. It means awfulness in the most fearful depiction of that to-be-shunned word, which means an indescribable something, because in its reality no man in words can encompass its depth, width and length. It is a responsibility incalculable, to be an engineer. The conductor's position is so responsible that no ordinary man can fill it—a man of ordinary intelligence never runs a passenger train very long. Stations are numerous. At every stop some 'wayfaring' man gets on or off. The conductor, who looks after the money end of the string—the only string tied to anything these degenerate days—must know all about and account for every cent. The responsibility of the conductor is 'hard on the constitution.' Those of the L. & N. are among the most competent, polite and painstaking in the land. The employees of this great road all realize the enormity of their several responsible positions. Section foremen has responsibilities in union there is strength. Landram's reference to 'the man in the cab' brings on much talk to people in a talking mood, and 'words fitly spoken are like apples of gold in the pictures of silver.' The man who maps out the line for a railroad to be built upon has a very responsible position—very. Every crook and turn he makes in it means much. More anon,

Friends That Are True.

If affairs seem to twirl for a space amiss,
If something or other goes wrong;
If there's falsity in a sweetheart's kiss
Or a discord in a song.

If the salad is tasteless, the wine is stale,
And the atmosphere's full of rue;
There's always a heavenly side to the tale,
The faith of the friends that are true.

Oh, the world is wide and the world is fair,
As we worry its maze through;
But there's nothing so sweet encountered there
As the faith of friends that are true.

If the swirl of events proceeds too fast
For a courage that's none too strong,
And the crash of wheels and the mace of marts
Deepens the discord in the song:

If the pitiless profit for which men strive
Has dealt its share to you,
Why, get up and thank the Lord you're alive
And have friends that are true.

Oh, the world is wide and the world is dear,
And we have to worry it through;
But there's nothing so sweet encountered here
As the faith of the friends that are true.

If the freaks of folly have set their snares,
And the way seems all too long—
If you've sown your wheat and garnered but Tares,

And there's a'er a false note in the song,
If the sun is clouded and skies loom gray
And there's nothing left to do,
Why, that is the time to steal away,
To the heart of a friend that's true.

Oh, the world is wide and the world is grand,
And there's little or nothing new,
But its sweetest thing is the grip of the hand
Of the friend that's tried and true.

If the stress of finalities strikes too sore,
And events are awry and wrong
And there ever arrives one ending more,
One more false note in life's song:

If the brain is steady, and the heart all afloat,
And ready to dare and do,
Why that is the time to hasten out
And confer with a friend that's true.

Oh, the world is wide and the world is broad,
And friends are all too few,
But the sweetest blessing earth can afford,
Is the faith of a friend that's true.

Paying the Price of Happiness.

"In the quest of happiness, in the attitude which we take toward the world, these things it behooveth us to mind:

It is the things we desire that are our best index, and not the things that we have. It is willingness to pay the price of our happiness that gauges our real earnestness to have it. And it is not true that any other person's idea of happiness is 'all wrong' because it is not your idea or mine."

These are the concluding paragraphs of a paper by Miss Clara E Laughlin, in the August Delineator, on the quest of happiness—a subject about which philosophers have busied themselves for some thousands of years, but a solution of which, adequate to all, none has been able to provide. Miss Laughlin does not offer any universal panacea but some wholesome advice that may be taken to heart by many who are engaged in the pursuit of happiness.

No False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. Sold by C C & J E Stormes. 1 m

Notice of Dissolution.

The firm of Jennings & Lackey, of Paint Lick, Ky., is this day dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Lackey retiring. This July 1, 1903.

R. L. Jennings,
T. M. Lackey.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but severe Coughs, Brochitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At Stormes' Drug Store.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine costing but a few cents cured me." For sale by all druggists. 1 m

Lightning.—Dash cold water over a person struck.

Two Bottles Cured Him.

"I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years," writes A H Davis, of Mt. Sterling, Ia., "but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure." Sold by C C & J E Stormes. 1 m

Fainting.—Place flat on back; allow fresh air, and sprinkle with water.

All Druggists Will Buy It Back.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All druggists will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. 1 m

Cinders in the Eye.—Roll soft paper up like a lamp lighter and wet the tip to remove, or use a medicine dropper to draw it out. Rub the other eye.

WALLACETON.

Arthur Yocum, of Berea, was with friends here from Thursday until Monday.

Mrs. Ed Hamilton and family, of Louisville, are here on a visit to relatives and friends.

Mrs. Maggie E. Mann and son, of Brookings, South Dakota, are here on a two months' visit.

Wheat threshing has begun here and the yield is not so good as was promised in the spring.

G. M. Maupin and wife visited Mrs. Maupin's home folk near Mallory Springs, Saturday and Sunday.

After undergoing a surgical operation J. B. Wallace, who for several weeks has been quite poorly is slowly convalescing.

Corn is now growing nicely and the excellent rains of Saturday and Sunday were very gratefully received by our farmers.

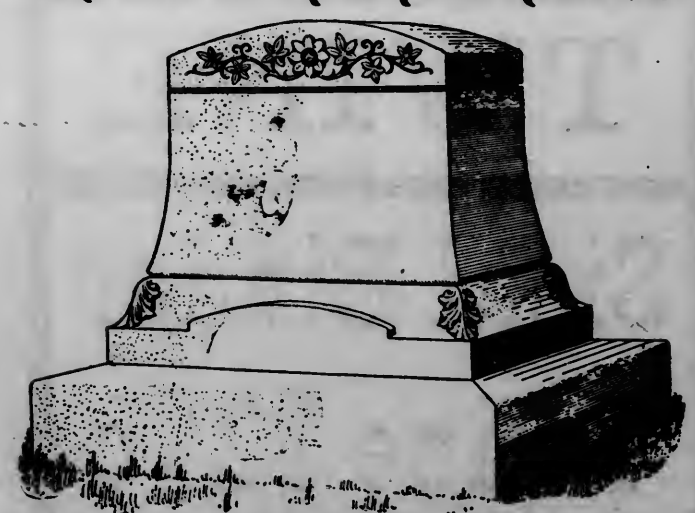

The District Sunday school convention held here on the 11th, was a pronounced success. The attendance was good from various parts of the district; the address practical and interesting; the order almost perfect, dinner just right, in both quality and quantity; and the county president, Prof. L. V. Dodge, pronounced the convention one of the very best held this year. The meeting was held in our new church here, and members of all denominations worked together so enthusiastically and so harmoniously that one could not realize that there was such a thing as Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, Christians, Congregationalists, &c.; but all seemed to be one religious bond, working in one common cause toward one common end. How much better it would be if all religious work were carried on in that way.

PUBLIC SALE

Fresh A. J. C. Cows.

Mrs. Anna F. Quisenberry will sell at public auction on Monday July 20th 1903, (County Court Day) at 1:30 P. M. at Fox and Logan's stable in Danville, Ky., 11 head of fresh young registered Jersey cows, with first and second calves. Also two bulls. She has never heretofore offered a superior lot of cattle, and this offering contains show animals and superb milkers. For catalogue address, Robert T. Quisenberry, Danville, Ky.

ARTISTIC MEMORIALS.

If you are considering the purchase of any kind of a monument we conscientiously believe we can serve you to your entire satisfaction. MUST BE REPRESENTED

Great Opportunity Awaits Kentucky at World's Fair.

SPEECH OF PRESIDENT A. Y. FORD

Tells Delegates to State Commercial Convention Why This Commonwealth of All Others Should Answer to the Roll-Call of States at the Exposition.

No one speaks more eloquently on the development of Kentucky's products and resources than does Mr. A. Y. Ford, the President of the Kentucky Exhibit Association. Since his election to the place at the head of the organization which was formed to raise a fund for Kentucky's representation at the World's Fair in St. Louis next year—purely a labor of love with him, for it must be remembered there are no salaried commissioners—Mr. Ford has made many speeches along this line. The latest of these was delivered at the State Commercial Convention recently held in Louisville. It is our pleasure today to present the greater part of it to our readers, as follows:

The movement for a creditable representation of Kentucky at the great World's Fair, which is to mark the Centenary of the Purchase of the Louisiana Territory, appeals both to business interest and to patriotic sentiment.

It appeals to business interests, because no community more than Kentucky needs to have itself properly advertised to the world, not only for the correction of that false report into which it has been brought by persistent and long-continued misrepresentation, but because, at this particular juncture in the material development of the country, it finds an unusual opportunity and a pressing necessity to demonstrate to the world of capital and of home-seekers the superior advantages which offer as an undeveloped State, in which all the essentials of profitable development are to be found.

It appeals to sentiment, because the Kentucky characteristic pride in the achievements of the founders of the Commonwealth can find in all the long, illustrious story nothing more fit to inspire it than the part which the men of this State have played in that marvelous national drama of expansion, of which the Louisiana Purchase was a part.

How could Kentucky forego her claim to a share in the glories of a nation at whose birth into the Union she stood sponsor, created a part of this household of liberty through her instrumentality, peopled largely by her sons, bound a destiny of tender ties of blood and interest—all in all one of the very richest of the jewels in her crown of Statehood.

But perhaps it is in the keeping with the spirit of an occasion like this to put sentiment to the rear and business considerations to the fore. We hold that Kentucky should be at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Because it has suffered incalculable injury from malicious misrepresentation; because it needs to be advertised to the world by something else besides its mountain feuds and its hinterland politics; because it has been caricatured too long in the general ideal formed of it and deserves to be taken seriously. We like a joke all right, but we don't want it rubbed in too long.

Because it is an undeveloped State, needing the good-will of investors and home-seekers and having to offer them that will endure and repay investment.

Because now is the time of times for putting ourselves right and keeping our eyesight before the business world, while this tremendous tide of material development is at its flood and men are seeking on every hand for profitable fields of activity.

Because, through ignorance of our own resources or indifference to them, through lack of enterprise in presenting information about them to those who seek it, we have suffered ourselves to be outstripped as an industrial community by states that could not compare with us in natural advantages.

I know of no State that stands more in need of a protest in the name of truth than Kentucky. I know of no State that has been so persistently and maliciously misrepresented. I know of no State that has more supinely endured such misrepresentation, recklessly giving fresh occasion for it and thus making it more difficult to disprove.

I am not an apologist for that which is wrong with us, and there is much in present conditions for which we should frankly take shame to ourselves, but the very existence of such things but emphasizes the necessity that we should be up and doing in the cause of our own redemption, to the end that these early glories of the State of which we boast so much may not be dimmed and derided or its future hampered by our dilly. No community more than an individual should be over-sensitive to just criticism, but unchecked misrepresentation, long enough continued, makes reputation and it has made for us a reputation that has formed a barrier to the proper development of the State. It is a thing to be denied and rebuked with earnestness and dignity at every opportunity, not only as a matter of State pride but as a matter of State welfare.

In all the long roll-call of States not one important State will be missing, not one that can lay any claim to rank as an enterprising Commonwealth. Not one whose growth in wealth and population attests its energy and progressive spirit. There will be aligned the States that stand for progress, for enlightenment, for education, for leadership.

Shall Kentucky eliminate herself from such a company and say to the world that we not only regret the work our fathers did in the cause of national expansion, but that we do not care to be ranked among the enterprising States, that we are wedded to our idols and only want the busy world to stand out of our sunlight and let us alone with our mountain feuds, our political quarrels, our undeveloped wealth, that we don't want locomotives scaring our horses, that we don't want factories spreading soot over the landscape, that we'll keep our coal and our iron and our lead and zinc and snapper where they are, for we don't want us.

Men of Kentucky, that is the verdict that our indifference to this opportunity would both invite and justify, and it is a verdict that would belie the State and its people. We have a few mosquitoes yet, for I doubt not there were even then hordes in the Garden of Eden. We have people left who are comfortable only when joggling along the well-worn ruts.

A reasonable State pride is well enough, but a State pride that does not express itself in emulative deeds is a hybrid thing, more South Sea than any pretense, gaining nothing but ridicule, and I fear that with some of our good people State pride has solidified into mere self-complacency, with the conviction that whatever is all right and that any suggestion of improvement is a suggestion of disloyalty.

And yet there is work to be done. For Kentucky is an undeveloped State with rich resources, and whatever stands in the way of the development of those resources—whether it be unwise laws, whether it be our own ignorance of these resources, or whether it be indifference at home and ignorance and misconception abroad—must be swept aside.

With the largest known area of coking coals in the world, we produce only four-tenths of one per cent of all the coke produced in the United States and, though we are now rapidly increasing our production, we yet rank only ninth as a coke producer, behind Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri.

With practically the same coal area as West Virginia, we produce only one-fourth as much coal. With twice the coal area of Alabama, we mine annually only about one-half as much coal.

With vast fields of natural gas, which we are only just beginning to develop them, we are only just beginning to develop them and have as yet not a single petroleum refinery in the State.

With a splendid stock raising country about us, the annual product of our butchering and meat packing establishments is little more than one-tenth that of Indiana. With vast fields of natural gas, which we are only just beginning to develop them, we are only just beginning to develop them and have as yet not a single petroleum refinery in the State.

With twenty-eight counties wholly untouched by steam railways and others that have barely begun to be touched, we have only 132 miles of railway from 1890 to 1900 and in 1901 only 33 miles, though the total new construction in the South in the decade was 1,520 miles, and in the United States 4,433 miles.

With vast deposits of iron ore, we have declined as a producer of pig iron, and in 1901 produced only 2,000 tons, against Alabama's more than 1,200,000 tons. Yet twenty-five years ago the pig iron production of the two States was about equal.

In iron and steel manufactures, though our actual output has increased, our rank among the States has declined from seventh in 1870 to eleventh in 1890 and thirteenth in 1900, though we have improved our rank in the past ten years, having stood only sixteenth in 1900. In spite of the natural resources and advantages that should make us a great iron and steel State, we are out-ranked by such States as Maryland, Indiana and New Jersey, which can not compare with us in such advantages.

With vast deposits of the finest clay, whose value is becoming known to the trade and which we are at last, especially in Eastern Kentucky, beginning to appreciate and to develop, we still rank twelfth in the United States as a producer of clay products. Our improvement is shown by the fact that we ranked only twenty-second in 1890.

After having been all this time in ignorance of the fact that we had valuable deposits of lead and zinc and fluor spar, we are just beginning the development of these deposits—material that the commercial world needs and will pay a good price for.

With all the facilities and advantages that invite profitable manufacturing we have only within the past few years begun to make real progress as a manufacturing State. In the essentials of abundant and accessible raw materials, cheap and inexhaustible fuel, splendid transportation facilities, nearness to great markets, being within a short distance of the center of population, cheap and intelligent labor, and favorable climate, we yet rank only eighteenth as a manufacturing State.

A Glorious Opportunity. I cite these facts in no spirit of deprecation, but in support of my statement that Kentucky is an undeveloped State. I cite them in no spirit of discouragement, but rather to indicate the splendid field in which we have to labor and the possible results that wait only upon our will. I cite them in no spirit of discouragement, but rather to indicate the splendid field in which we have to labor and the possible results that wait only upon our will.

His ability along this line is recognized by all and his energy is the wonder of many.

Mr. Johnson is not allowing any grass to grow under his feet in pushing the work of his department. Early in the year he appointed a special committee covering the fruit growing section of the State, and to the members thereof gave specific instructions as to the collection of specimens for the Horticultural Exhibit from Kentucky at the Exposition. It is Mr. Johnson's purpose to be ready at the opening of the Fair with fruits in glass and from cold storage, and to supplement this daily with fresh fruit shipped from different parts of Kentucky to him in the Horticulture building.

Mr. Johnson was able to secure the hearty co-operation of a number of well-known fruit growers in preserving in glass the different berries. He is now calling on men identified with the Exhibit Association in every county in the State for apples and pears especially, to be placed in cold storage until the first of next May. In his circular letter on this subject, Mr. Johnson says:

"We want fruit from every county in the State. Many counties grow but little fruit, yet they have great possibilities in that line. Show samples of your best, induce fruit growers to come to counties and locate. Fruit growers are of necessity permanent citizens and taxpayers, for they transform their own lands and their forests into orchards the value of the real estate is enhanced immeasurably. All that is needed is three willing workers in every county and every county will be represented. The work will not be great and the knowledge that your county is represented in the greatest show the world has ever known will repay you for all your trouble. Any county can send in at least one barrel, and others should contribute several barrels. The show continues for six months and these apples (and pears also) are wanted for cold storage purpose, so as to have a continuous display throughout the entire time. We must have these from the crop of this year, as next year's crop will not mature in time. Put only fruit ripening at the same time in the same package."

"We cannot keep successfully fruit that ripens earlier than the Maiden Blush apple. Peaches won't keep. Select only perfect specimens, as to size, shape, color and condition. Wrap each specimen in paper separately—avoid bruising—pack them in barrels carefully, mark thereon the name of variety, the name of the grower and address. If more than one variety is packed in the same barrel, please place paper between the varieties and mark each as above. A roll of honor will be published at the end of the show, giving the name and address of all who contribute fruit and also the names of those who gather up these displays. When the great wall of Jerusalem was built so perfectly in so short a time the reason given was: 'The people have a mind to work.' So now if the people have a mind to work we will astonish the world at St. Louis with our fruit display."

Mr. Johnson has asked all to whom he sent circulars to notify him at once that they will collect the fruit for their county. Upon receipt of such notification he will issue full instructions. He thinks it will be absolutely necessary for the fruit to be sent direct to St. Louis this Fall for cold storage, from which plant it may be withdrawn in such quantities and at such time as needed.

Mr. Johnson has in mind numerous attractive designs for best displaying Kentucky fruit, and all citizens of the State who visit the Fair will come away with a pleasant recollection of Kentucky's Horticultural Exhibit.

10,000 GIVEN AWAY.

The Louisville Courier-Journal to Make a Cash Distribution to Subscribers.

In 1891 the Courier-Journal, of Louisville, inaugurated and carried to a successful issue the first great estimating contest ever conducted by a newspaper. This contest was based on the Presidential election of 1890, and $14,000 was distributed to Courier-Journal readers.

In response to numerous requests the Courier-Journal has decided to inaugurate another similar contest based on the total vote for all candidates for Governor of Kentucky in the election, November 3, 1902. Ten thousand dollars (in gold, silver, or greenback) will be given away to successful estimators. There will be single gifts of $100, $1,000, $500, $300, $200, $150, $100, $50, and $20.

1,670 gifts of 40 cents. In addition, there will be gifts of $50, $25, and $10 for the estimators received before August 1, before September 1, October 1. The object of this profit-sharing liberality on the part of the Courier-Journal is to secure new subscribers for the Daily and Weekly Courier-Journal. Every person subscribing for the Weekly Courier-Journal one year, sending one dollar with the subscription is entitled to two guesses or estimates. Every person subscribing for the Daily Courier-Journal by mail one month (60 cents) is entitled to one guess: one year $5.00, twelve guesses. Resubscribers count the same as new subscribers. Write to the Courier-Journal Company today for full particulars and blanks.

A GREAT OFFER.

Louisville Times and Weekly Courier Journal Six Months, and the Central Record For only $2.00.

THE LOUISVILLE TIMES and WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL are making an unprecedented campaign subscription offer—both papers six months for $1; to separate addresses as if desired. As the regular price of THE TIMES for six months is $3 and that of the WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL 50c, this offer gives $3.50 worth of newspapers for a dollar bill; which ought to put the two papers into every home in Kentucky.

And to show that the Central Record can be just as liberal and enterprising we have joined the combination and will send the Central Record for a year, along with the other two for six months for $2.00; thus giving $4.00 for $2.00. All three to different addresses, as desired. "Now is the time to subscribe." Subscription received at this office.
